

Green Building Education

The Future of Building is Green Green Building Education Meets a Variety of Continuing Education Needs

Construction Professionals: Builders * Developers * Contractors * Suppliers
Subcontractors * Construction Trades * Design Professionals
Facilities Management Operations and Maintenance
State and Local Code Officials
Municipal Zoning and Planning Departments

The Green Building Education Commercial Training Program: Green Advantage presents sustainable construction in a holistic way – exposing contractors, trades-people, engineers, and architects to a progressive system that builds upon their knowledge base of construction. Information is presented in a logical order, as one would build a building. This training is complementary to the LEED® system. Trainees receive an essential “understanding” and a level of familiarity with LEED®, its credit intents, requirements, costs and benefits by presenting it as an integral part of the construction process. Presenting LEED® as a “vehicle” to achieve a green building has proven to be one of the most successful aspects of this training program. The final product prepares trainees for the Green Advantage Certification Exam, serves as a pre-requisite and preparation for the LEED Green Associate Exam and qualifies for AIA CES Credit.

- 📌 ABC Green Contractor Certification Program
- 📌 AIA
- 📌 Green Advantage
- 📌 UCC/Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry
- 📌 USGBC/GBCI
- 📌 Professional Engineers (PDH) Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
- 📌 “Open Book” Exam for Green Advantage Certification may be ending soon!

Although Green Advantage has extended use of the Classroom Workbook and Resource Guide provided by the training organization to take the exam, this practice may be discontinued later this year.

Attend Green Advantage Commercial Training – Prepare for the Certification Exam Workshop

Date: October 1, 2010 Time: 8:00 – 5:00 pm

Location: Nabholz Construction
10319 E. 54th Street
Tulsa, OK 74146

Cost: Early $370 / Late $400

REGISTER NOW

